

COUNCIL BLUFFS

Four Score and Ten, Mrs. Kimball Establishes Fine Knitting Record

In a deep, sunny window of a quaint, old house in Council Bluffs sits a beautiful old lady, her smooth, white hands flying in and out among long strands of gray wool. Click-click her knitting needles go, and in an incredibly short space of time a pair of warm socks have been completed for some man in the uniform of his country.

Mrs. Lucy P. Kimball is the name of this patriotic knitter, and before she passes her 90th milestone on November 11 she hopes to complete 100 pairs of these warm articles, so badly needed by our boys in the trenches. Ninety-four pairs of socks have been made by Mrs. Kimball up to date, but she laughs easily says that as six more are not at all she is confident of rounding out her 100 pairs before the great clock of time tells her 90th birthday.

"Grandma" Kimball, as she is fondly called, may truly say that she is "90 years young." After a residence of 23 years in Council Bluffs she numbers her friends by the legion and finds time to visit them all.

One hears much of the modern grandmother, and Mrs. Kimball, with her snowy hair, dainty cap of lace and lavender ribbons, and tiny shawl, seems like a picture from the past, but when one speaks of the events in the great world, and hears her comments, it is evident that she is abreast of the times in every way. Born in Vermont in 1828, Mrs. Kimball remembers the civil war days vividly, and the blue eyes grow sad as she tells of seeing her friends and neighbors march away, to give their lives for the union.

The great conflict in which the world is now engaged makes even the old seem almost bright. Mrs. Kimball said, in the face of the anguish in which the universe is now steeped. Every newspaper is read eagerly by this dear old lady, so soon to be fourscore and ten, and she follows the movements of our great army with the keenest interest. Although she has no near relatives in the service of their country, each man who wears the khaki is dear to the heart of Mrs. Kimball.

Six Hello Girls Help First Army

Six women operators of the signal corps—six American girls who jumped at the chance to be there—were in at the start of the St. Mihiel push of September 12, at the headquarters of the First American army, according to the Stars and Stripes of September 26.

During the six days that followed the Twelfth's initial leave they kept on their jobs, handling an average of 40,000 words a day over the eight lines they operated, and working any hours that were asked of them, day or night.

To Give Everyone Chance.

The lucky half-dozen—Chief Operator Grace D. Banker and Operators Esther V. Fresnel, Helen E. Hill, Bertha M. Hunt, Marie Large and Suzanne Prevot—were chosen of a total of 225 girl operators all just dying for the chance to go forward. It was a hard job to pick out the ones who were to go, so anxious was the whole force to get a crack at the big show at close range.

The six American girls, while up front, rough it with the best of the army, billeted, to be sure, but subject to all the discomforts and dangers that come with being billeted in the forward area over which the boche avions fly when they can.

According to their superior officers both in the signal corps and on the general staff, they have shown remarkable spirit and utter absence of nerves. And, needless to say, they have filled every one of the 300 odd miles of soldier operators in the A. E. F., toiling away further down the line and answering the calls of the telephone sextette, with a green and rankling envy.

Before the outbreak of the war it was computed that altogether there were some three thousand women earning their living as sailors along the wild Breton coast of France. They must each and every one of them obtain official permission before taking up their hazardous and laborious calling, but this once obtained, they rank, as regards wages and work, exactly as do the other members of the crew.

How to Look Years Less Than Your Age

The most aged face will look years younger after the use of ordinary mercurized was for from ten days to two weeks. This remarkable substance, because of its peculiar absorptive power, actually removes the thin veil of faded or withered outer cuticle, a little at a time. Gradually the fresher, more youthful skin underneath is revealed. This absorption process being a purely hygienic one, an entirely natural process is acquired—quite different from the artificial complexion, which appears anything but girlish, though often bearing painful evidence of childishness. Any use of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to rejuvenate any complexion. It is put on like cold cream at bedtime, and removed mornings with warm water.

To eradicate such age marks as wrinkles and furrows, make a wash lotion by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half pint of witch hazel. This has wonderful astringent and tonic properties. It quickly effects all kinds of wrinkles, no matter how caused, making the skin firm, smooth and young looking.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

Wisconsin is the first state to pass a law throwing limitations around the employment of women on railroads.

The women throughout Canada are preparing to take a prominent part in the approaching Victory Loan campaign.

The percentage of women employed in the metal trades in the United States has increased since 1914 from 4.6 to 12.9.

It is estimated that 100,000 women are now employed in munition plants and airplane factories in the United States.

Women are now employed for the first time in the mechanical end of the rope-walk at the Charlestown (Mass.) navy yard.

The board of trustees of the University of Georgia and the Georgia School of Technology have voted to permit women to enter the agricultural and mechanical schools of the university and the Peabody Institute.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Adopting Babies.
No, Mrs. M. I will not publish your letter, since you ask me not to. I am glad to know you are going to take a homeless child in place of the one that never came. It is a splendid thing to do, and there are many babies in the world in need of good homes and warm hearts such as yours. I have asked Mrs. A. A. McGraw, superintendent of the Child Saving Institute here in Omaha, to send you application blanks to fill out. They have several little babies there, as well as older children, for adoption. You will have to prove your fitness to bring up a child and to give references, but this is a certain, from your sincere letter, you will have no difficulty in doing. May the best of fortune go with you in this good work.

Conduct of Young Girl.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Being in need of some good advice, I have decided to come to you. I am 13 years old and quite pretty. I would like to know if it would be all right to wear pink stockings and a green dress to a party, and is it all right to go out riding with boys after night and to kiss them? Also, is it proper to write letters to a soldier I have never seen, or to be on the streets after dark? P. D. Q.

No, to all your questions. The first is a matter of taste, as few shades of green and pink would make a pretty combination for dress and stockings. The others are serious questions. If you want to go riding with boys in the evening, have mother or an older sister go, too. Kisses should be saved for those you love. Don't make yourself common by writing to strangers or by running around the streets. Keep busy at your school work and with things worth while.

Not Bound to Marry.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are two girls 18 years of age. Several months ago we were out riding with a couple of young men, with whom we had been keeping company for some time. During the ride an accident occurred in which the young men very gallantly saved our lives. Our parents now think us bound to marry them, but we merely value them as good friends. Please tell us what to do, as we are very much perplexed.

GLADYS AND DOROTHY.

Surely you must misunderstand your parents' stand on this question. The young men were bound to save your lives if possible, and their doing so did not give them the right to marry you. You do not say whether they want to marry you, by the way. Just go ahead and be good friends and don't marry anyone you don't want to. There is enough unhappiness in the world without deliberately courting it by marrying without love.

Soldiers' Addresses.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Kindly publish the names and addresses of some lonely soldier boys. A SILENT READER.

We have received specific instructions from the government not to give soldiers' names and addresses any more. Information may easily fall into the hands of the enemy by correspondence with strangers. I am, therefore, unable to oblige you.

Book Purchases.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Please advise me where I can get these two books, "The Secret of the Storm Country" and "Lydia of the Pines." I have tried to get them in my own town, but I can't.

"DO IT NOW"

Procrastination is not only the "thief of time" but also the assassin of opportunity.

If you have anything to do don't delay doing it. Push or be pushed is going to be the slogan in America from now on.

Dilly-dally won't do—we have no time to lose.

The man who delays purchasing waiting for prices to come down—will eventually pay MORE and get less.

The woman who is going to the Doctor if her neighbor gets well, may die while her more ambitious neighbor is securing health.

The investor and business man who places cowardly dollars in a vault until the war is over, will find they have shrunk in purchasing power and he has shrunk in self-esteem.

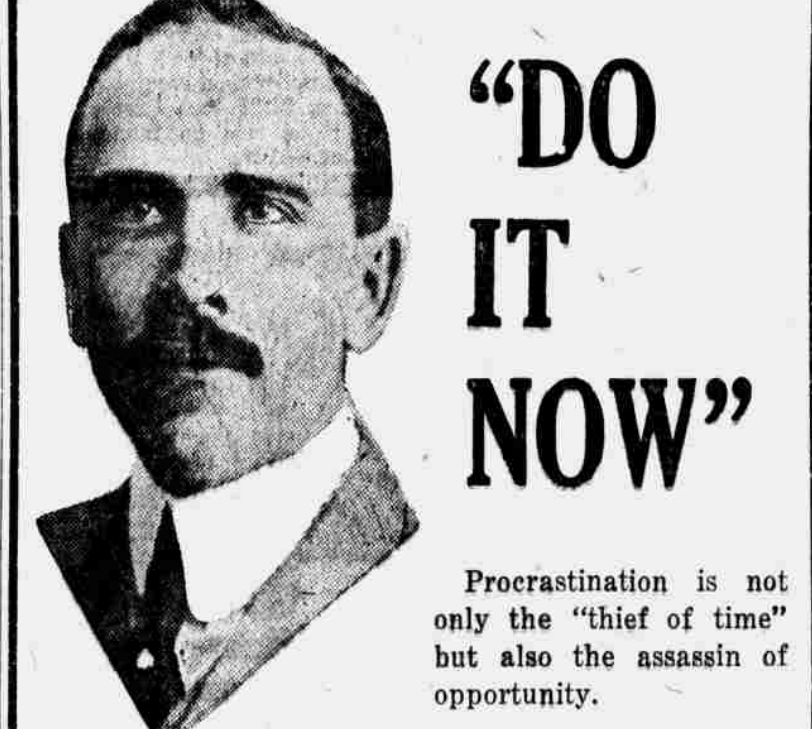

An aching tooth usually means a prompt visit to the dentist, but unfortunately too many people wait until the ache comes—before giving their teeth the attention which would save them time, money and suffering.

There never will be so good a time to do a thing as the present time.

It is doubtful if you WILL EVER secure lower prices for dentistry than I can make you at present.

There may be a time—and that very soon, when ALL dentists will be unable to secure sufficient gold to fill HALF the demand for gold crowns and bridge work.

"Get your teeth off your mind" now.

To Give The Hair a Naturally Wavy Effect

Since the virtues of plain liquid lime are as a hair curler, known all over the world, as well as abroad, have been having a really extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. Its effects are so entirely harmless—especially as compared with the ruinous curling iron—doubtless have been responsible for its increasing use for the purpose mentioned. A few ounces of liquid lime will last a long while. The need only apply a little of the liquid with a clean tooth brush before retiring and in the morning the hair will have that beautiful wavy and glossy appearance, with no marks of artificiality. The best way is to divide the hair into strands and moisten each of them from root to tip. There is no discoloration, no streaky or other unpleasant after-effect.
